Toefl PreparationESLL-8005A

This course is designed to help students study for the TOEFL iBT test. It will provide students with an overview of the TOEFL test. Students will learn and practice test taking strategies, reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills. Grammar will be reviewed. There are no prerequisites for the course; however, an advanced level of English is required to pass the TOEFL test. While this course will address individual problem areas, the student should already be functionally fluent before attempting this course or the test. Students should already be familiar with basic word processing and keyboard. (9 sessions)
