New students: We strongly recommend that you follow the “Best time to apply by” dates listed above for each semester.

Why is this important?

- You’ll be given an assigned date and time to register online, before registration starts for everyone else. You’ll then have the best selection of classes and times to choose from!
- This helps ensure that you have enough time to complete the admission steps and are ready to sign up for classes. This also gives you enough time to apply for financial aid and research and apply for scholarships and/or work-study jobs.
- And best of all...you’ll avoid the last-minute rush and long lines!
