

ENGLISH FOR ACADEMIC PURPOSES AT MACOMB

Communicating strongly, one word at a time

Knowing how to read and write English makes you a better student. Macomb's English for Academic Purposes Courses will teach you:

Here's what students had to say about this course

"I learned a lot—how to make a sentence, grammar, how to talk."

"We have a future when we're done here."

"I learned conversation. When I came here, my English didn't come out. Coming here, the teacher explained it. Now, I understand well. When the teacher asks me a question, I can answer. It's a good experience and good practice."

"When you're done, you can find a good job. It made a big difference."

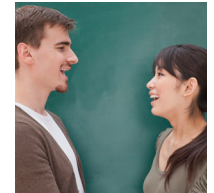

Reading

Writing

Listening

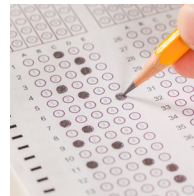

Speaking

These skills will help you:

Study

Take tests

Write papers

Give speeches

This will make you more confident in all of your classes! You will continue to develop your English language skills before continuing on to English composition.

Macomb's English for Academic Purposes Courses include:

- Academic Speaking and Listening 1 and 2
- Integrated Skills and Preparatory Composition 1–5
- Extensive Reading 1 and 2

For more information on the English for Academic Purposes Courses offered at Macomb, please contact the Communications Department at:

South Campus:
586.445.7354
AandS.south@macomb.edu

Center Campus:
586.286.2282
AandS.center@macomb.edu

866.Macomb1 (866.622.6621) | www.macomb.edu

Discover. Connect. Advance.™