GLOBAL SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT

GET AHEAD OF THE CURVE!
The global supply chain stretches to markets throughout the world. And along the way, those responsible for managing it must ensure that parts and products are manufactured, stored, inventoried and delivered in as timely and cost-effective a manner as possible. It is a field that is growing, challenging and crucial in a global economy. And Macomb is one of the first to offer an associate degree in it.

THE PROGRAM
In Macomb’s Global Supply Chain Management Program, you can earn a two-year associate degree. Credits earned in the program are transferable to many four-year colleges and universities, including Wayne State University, one of the few to offer a Bachelor’s Degree in Global Supply Chain Management. Wayne State’s program is conveniently offered on both its main campus and at the Advanced Technology Education Center across from Macomb’s South Campus in Warren.

And, you can earn up to 82 credits at Macomb before transferring to Wayne State!

EMPLOYMENT OUTLOOK
The median salary for a global transportation manager in Michigan is $90,300, with career opportunities expected to grow by 7.2 percent through 2024. The median salary for a logistician or supervisory supply management specialist in Michigan is $81,000, with career opportunities expected to grow by 7.0 percent through 2024.

“Macomb’s Global Supply Chain program really gave me a solid and cost-effective foundation. The professors prepared me to move on and earn my bachelor’s degree, and to succeed in this challenging but rewarding field.”

—Melissa Zack

“My experience with Macomb Community College was excellent. The education I received was of the highest quality and prepared me for courses at Wayne State University. Being a part of Wayne’s Mike Ilitch School of Business allowed me to pursue internships at Lear and Meritor. The skills I learned in the classroom resulted in full-time employment as a materials planner at Meritor.”

—Kevin O’Neil
PLANNING TO TRANSFER TO A FOUR-YEAR COLLEGE OR UNIVERSITY?
Options in all of Macomb’s Business Administration programs include a two-year associate degree (ABA or AAS) or a one-year certificate. Students may transfer courses to a four-year college or university to pursue a bachelor’s degree. Speak with your Macomb counselor early in your college career to make the transfer process hassle-free. For an appointment, call Center Campus, 586.286.2228 or South Campus, 586.445.7211.

That's how much MORE you'll earn over your working lifetime with a bachelor’s degree, compared with a high school diploma. That figure goes up even more with a master’s degree. And the difference is likely to grow even larger as you move up the ladder.

And you will advance. College grads get the better jobs to begin with, and the promotions that follow.

Why? Because employers value employees who can communicate effectively, tackle issues, make spot-on decisions, and do so independently and as part of a team. These critical qualities are developed more fully in the course of getting a college education.

LET’S GET DOWN TO BUSINESS!
